JOB SUMMARY

Under general supervision performs a variety of non-laboratory research and administrative tasks determined by the field and scope of the particular research study. Works as part of a team in compiling and analyzing results; although tasks may be performed independently and/or without direct supervision.