The Registered Nurse provides direct patient/client care focusing on identifying and treating responses of individuals or groups to actual or potential alterations in health. Utilizes critical thinking skills in implementation of the nursing process.