JOB SUMMARY

Manages the Instructional and Research Computing Center (IRCC) department that provides highly specialized support with scientific, mathematics, and engineering applications; job schedulers; queues; storage; various tools; and operating systems used in a computational computing environment. Collaborates with faculty and students from a diverse set of research and academic disciplines to analyze and provide solutions for their unique computational computing needs. An HPC manager will also be responsible for overseeing HPC Systems Administrators and Systems Operators that help support the comput