The Instructional Design Assistant collaborates with Instructional Designers in the design and development of new online Continuing Education courses and distance education course materials. Revises and/or enhances online Continuing Education courses; course materials; and integrates technology into traditional teaching practices.