JOB SUMMARY

The Manager Health Promotion Services is responsible for overseeing the planning, implementation, and evaluation of all health promotion programs and services. Core responsibilities for this position include conducting research and needs assessments; supervising the wellness program; formulating a strategy to address identified needs; marketing to and recruiting participants for the wellness programs; evaluating programs and services; and conducting data analysis.